Crisis Response Service

Cyber attacks have become commonplace and have impacted companies across all sectors, irrespective of size. According to a recent Microsoft study, 75% of organisations are not confident they will be able to respond to a cyber attack effectively. These attacks result in significant business disruption, cost and punitive measures when they occur.

At VISO, we have a specialised team of experienced cyber security managers on hand to deal with such incidents, augmenting the organisations current team to provide a crisis response services on a 24/7 basis. Our team have managed incidents in large companies across multiple sectors. We utilise best practice approaches and are on hand to provide assistance in investigating and managing incidents of any size.
